EASY FOR VIRGINIA

Gallaudet No Match for the Southerners.

LOCAL TEAM NOT DANGEROUS

Charlottesville Eleven Scores Three Touchdowns in Each Half, and Hume Makes a Clever Field Goal. Gallaudet's Defense Strong at Times, but Virginia's Goal Safe.

Special to The Washington Herald. Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 12.-Virginia found Gallaudet an easier proposition than she had anticipated, the final score to-day being 40 to 0. Three touchdowns were scored in each half, in addition to a clever goal from field by Hume, who came to Virginia from Woodberry-Forrest.

In the first half the features were the long runs of Crawford and Honaker, and the line smashing of Capt, Neff and Yancey. The latter's work was somewhat marred by his frequent fumbling. The final touchdown in this half was due to Crawford's sprint for 80 yards. He had a clear field, but was overtaken by Sharp, and downed on Gallaudet's 18-yard line. On the very next play, however, Capt. Neff dashed through the line for a Gallaudet surprised Virginia at the opening of the second half by her stubborn defense, and twice the Orange and Blue had to surrender the ball on downs within Gallauder's e-yard line. Virginia was re-enforced by substitutes soon after the second half and finished strong, making three touchdowns in rapid succession Hume once returned the ball 50 yards Sharp tackled brilliantly for Gallaudet.

Coaches Are Taking Advantage of the Opportunities Offered by the Revised Code to Work Out Quick Plays, Which Makes the Game More Interesting for the Spectators.

Do the new football rules lessen the danger and eliminate roughness is a frequent question among those interested in the great college game. The general consensus of opinion is that they do away with roughness only in a limited degree. Last season the rules were new and used to a slight extent. Having had a full season in which to become familiar with them the coaches are taking greater advantage of them this year. More trick plays will be used, and the forward pass and on-side kick no doubt will be seen opposing elevens and the rules against hurdling will do away with the element of danger to some extent, on the other hand the forward pass puts the man who goes ahead to get the ball in great danger. It is a difficult matter to catch a all coming over one's shoulder ever without interference, but when a burly opponent stands ready to shove th rould-be catcher out of the way, the dificulties are increased tenfold.

Better for Spectators.

The chief benefits of the new rules seen to consist in bettering the game from the spectators' standpoint. The plays are mere open and the ball is in sight a greater portion of the time. The possibilities of an unexpected play are increased. Of course, many of the new rules received but scant attention last year because they were new and difficult to work out. However, this season the old players have all had the advantage one year's schooling, so the coaches Hildreth's Entries Put Out of Business, One by a Foul and the Other Because He Failed to Hit Up a Gallop-Belmont's Fair Play Second by One-half a Length.

New York, Oct. 12.-From a speculative point of view, the racing at Belmont Park to-day was decidedly unsatisfactory, insmuch as four public favorites went down to defeat. The hardest blow suffered by the crowd in general came in the running of the Nursery Handicap for two-year-olds, at six furlongs. Sam Hildreth's pair, Uncle and Meelick, ruled first in favor, although they went from 8 to 5 to 3. Uncle picked up 128 pounds, and made all sorts of concessions to the others. Soon after the start, John Sanford's Fort Johnson, with Brussel up, swerved across the track, and Bloose 199 Mark Time.
